NO SIDESTEPPING

Applicants for District Attorney Brought Face to Face Before the President.

JUDGE TINSLEY LOOKS LIKE A WINNER.

[Lewis Ludlow in Louisville Post.]

Theodore Roosevelt never displayed his originality and straightforwardness in a more striking manner than on last Saturday, when he decided the contest for United States Attorney for the Eastern district of Kentucky. The incident is worth relating, for it shows that candor and manliness are preferred to subtle diplomacy by the President, even in the settlement of a difficult question, where there are strong contending interests.

When D. C. Edwards, Congressman from the 11th Kentucky district, reached Washington Saturday morning, accompanied by J. H. Tinsley, District Attorney, he did not have the faintest idea that Congressman J. B. Bennett and W. G. Dearing, would be District Attorney, had selected that identical morning as their time to interview the President. Mr. Edwards did know, however, that Messrs. Bennett and Dearing were in Washington, and that it behoved himself and Mr. Tinsley to be making hay while the sun shone.

Accordingly they hurried up to the White House. While they were in the cabinet-room, waiting to see the President, much to their surprise, Messrs. Bennett and Dearing were ushered in. It was a bit embarrassing for the man who wanted to hold on to his job to be thus thrown into company with the man who was after it, but there was no time for apologies, for Messrs. Edwards and Tinsley were passed on to Mr. Roosevelt's presence. Mr. Edwards was about to paint some glowing reasons why Mr. Tinsley should be continued in office when the President interrupted.

"Is there any one else to be heard in this matter?" he asked.

Mr. Edwards, of course, was obliged to inform him that Bennett and Dearing were waiting in the cabinet-room for an audience.

"LET'S HAVE IT OUT."

"Let's send for them and have it out face to face," said the President.

Mr. Edwards had not counted on such unexpected developments, but, of course, he assented. When Mr. Bennett lined up with Mr. Dearing, and Mr. Edwards stood up by the side of Mr. Tinsley, the President proceeded to make an impromptu little speech.

"I have been President about four years," he said, "and I think I am onto my job well enough to know just about what you fellows are going to say. In fact, I think I could make your speeches for you. You (turning to Mr. Edwards) are about to say that your friend, Mr. Tinsley, is an old soldier, that he has held office but one term, that he has made a good record and deserves appointment. You (to Mr. Bennett) are about to say that your district has only but lately been redeemed from the Democrats; that you need what strength you can get to keep it redeemed, that your candidate is a good man and worthy of this appointment.

"As far as I am concerned, I will say that while I have not followed Mr. Tinsley's official acts in detail I have a general impression that he has made a good record. Because he is an old soldier and has had but one term I shall reappoint him unless it is shown to me that his record is not such as to merit reappointment. It is now up to you, gentlemen (speaking to Messrs. Bennett and Dearing), to show me that Mr. Tinsley's record is not what it ought to be, or I shall give him another term."

The President's frank and outspoken utterances did not leave the Congressmen much to say. Mr. Edwards relieved the tense situation by stating that he had a high opinion of Mr. Dearing, and if there was any other place available for the disappointed candidate, he—Mr. Edwards—would be glad to join Mr. Bennett in endorsing him. The President thereupon very graciously wrote a letter to Attorney General Moody, commending Mr. Dearing for any appointment that might be available, and the Kentucky delegation departed.

It is believed here that when the President decided to reappoint District Attorney R. D. Hill, of the Western district of Kentucky, he also had in mind reappointing Mr. Tinsley, and that his mind was made up when the Kentucky men called Saturday. Certainly he displayed a remarkable knowledge of the details of the situation.

EXTENSION PLANNED

Cumberland Railroad Company May Enter Jellico in the Near Future.

The Cumberland Railroad Co. recently amended its charter to permit the building of an extension of its Brush creek line, now nearing completion, to Jellico. With the amending of the charter a surveying corps has been put to work along the route of the proposed extension and its work will soon be completed.

From the terminus of the Brush creek extension to Jellico the distance is seventeen miles. The line from Artemus, the beginning of the Brush creek line, to the terminus, is ten miles, and should the proposed extension to Jellico materialize it would give a twenty-seven mile railroad through one of the richest undeveloped coal fields in Southeastern Kentucky. The object of the railroad company, in securing of two outlets for the coal production, would be carried out by the building of the new line and favorable rates would be assured, although the Cumberland people and Louisville & Nashville company, with which the line connects, are understood to be in perfect harmony.

It is thought the ten mile Brush creek line will be completed within a few weeks. Already there is considerable activity in mining in the Brush creek field. The Cumberland Coal Company is making openings at the head of the line and will install a plant capable of handling 1,500 to 2,000 tons of coal daily. The Bennett-Jellico Coal Company, a new concern, is beginning developments along a mile lateral extension from the main Cumberland line, and is putting in a plant with a capacity of 1,000 tons daily. It is probable that other companies will begin developments in the near future.

COURT HOUSE BONDS

Would Carry by a Large Majority if the Public was Educated Along That Line.

We have talked with quite a number of good citizens recently who have asked us numerous questions relative to the Court-house bonds, and invariably they have expressed themselves that if the people properly understood the proposition that the bond question would carry by a large majority.

Many of our citizens have but the one idea, and that is that the Court-house bonds mean a heavy increase in taxes. This is not true. It simply means that it will make our taxes lighter.

Judge Faulkner stated from the bench at the last term of court that if the bond question was defeated he would see to it that the Fiscal Court built a new Court-house anyway.

Now if he does, what does it mean? It means that instead of having twenty years in which to raise the $30,000 and pay off the bonds, it will have to be raised in two or three years and it will have to come out of the tax-payers' pockets.

Now would it not be much easier to pay the $30,000 in twenty years than it would in two or three years?

Again, if the bonds carry and the time is extended twenty years new comers who may locate here in five or ten years from now will help to pay off the bonds; whereas if we have to go down into our pockets and pay for it in two or three years, these new comers will get the benefits of the new Court-house without it costing them a cent.

That is a common sense view of the matter, and it is for the interest of the tax-payers that we have tried in our feeble way to get this properly before the people.

We have for some time been well aware of the fact that there are some who are opposed to the Court-house bond question because this paper has favored it. That matters not to us. We are proud that we are endowed with a broader conception of other people's interests than to oppose a thing just because some one else favors it or favor it because some one else opposes it. We are glad that we were born with a reasonable amount of common sense and are sufficiently able to overcome prejudice that we can be for that which is right and will benefit the masses even if some one else should be the same way.

Now let's all set about to make the bond issue a success, and when we get the new Court-house we will all feel proud that we were instrumental in helping to make it; Knox county deserves it and we should not stand in her road to progress.

Our New Railroad.

We have nothing new this week to report concerning our proposed new railroad, as there has been no public meeting since our last report, but we have not abandoned the project by any means, and are only waiting for some of the other counties to have a little more time to see what can be done in regard to stock, right-of-way, &c.

There will be another meeting of the subscribers called soon, and the final touches will be added to the work of framing the charter, and it will be forwarded to the Seer of State and the charter for the road will be issued.

MASS CONVENTION

At The Court House Last Saturday Proved a Love Feast.

Strong Ticket Nominated Which is Sure to Win.

Last Saturday afternoon the Republican mass convention was called to order at the Court-house by Chairman W. W. Byrley at a few minutes past one o'clock, and the purpose of the meeting was briefly stated.

J. D. Tugge was chosen as chairman of the convention, and T. D. Tinsley secretary.

Upon motion of J. M. Tinsley, the chairman appointed a committee of seven to prepare and present resolutions and recommendations.

The committee was composed of J. L. Dozier, J. M. Tinsley, H. C. Black, J. M. Robison, W. W. Byrley, A. W. Hopper, V. Newley.

The committee repaired to one of the jury rooms and prepared and presented the names of the candidates as follows:

For Mayor, R. W. Cole; Councilmen, A. W. Hopper, J. H. Cottongim, W. M. Mitchell, J. M. Wilson, G. A. Look, A. L. Parker, and recommended that the nomination for Police Judge be left in the house to make nominations.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted, after which the chairman called for nominations for Police Judge. J. M. Robison presented the name of I. H. Ballard, and Dr. W. C. Black presented the name of D. W. Clark in a very earnest and florid address, in which he took occasion to compliment the writer very highly.

At the conclusion of his address we arose and kindly thanked the gentleman for suggesting our name, but stated that we were not a candidate and that it was our desire to be a private in the ranks of the grand old party rather than to seek honors at its hands, and requested that our name be withdrawn, and make the nomination of "Squire" Ballard unanimous which was done, after which the convention was upon motion adjourned.

The ticket as nominated is a strong one, and all are representative citizens and will make good officials. We are glad that we can present to the voters of our town such a ticket, and we assure every one that this ticket will be elected.

Big Strike in Wayne County Oil Fields.

Last Thursday Farmer, Odell and Mrs. Hutton made one of the biggest strikes of the year in the Parnellsville division of the Wayne county oil fields. The sand was reached at a depth of 440 feet, and when the drill had penetrated the oil-bearing formation a few feet the oil began flowing in big quantities. When put to work the flow reached 500 barrels in twenty hours, and the strike gives evidence of proving the best well yet drilled in lower Wayne county.

An encouraging feature of the new strike is its distance from any other well. The work was of an entirely wild-cat nature, being seven miles ahead of production, and an extensive area is added to that district.

Mr. Farmer, who resides here, is much elated with the outcome of the company's first venture in that field. The concern now has over 5,000 acres and is arranging for additional drilling.

ORDER A VOTE

On Issuance of County Bonds for Building New Court House.

It appearing to the satisfaction of this court that it is necessary for the public convenience and the preservation of the public records of Knox county, that a new Court-house should be built for Knox county and for the purpose of enabling this court to build a new Court-house and to provide for the building thereof, the sum of $30,000 is hereby suggested and appropriated, and for the purpose of procuring said sum it is further ordered that said bonds to be issued and sold and the proceeds thereof arising from the sale of said bonds be applied in building said new Court-house, and to that end it is now ordered by this court that County Bonds of Knox County be prepared, executed and issued on printed forms under the seal of the County Court, which bonds shall be signed by the presiding Judge of the County Court and countersigned by the County Court Clerk of this county, payable to bearer, at the Court-house, in the City of Barbourville, Knox county, Kentucky. Said bonds to be payable twenty years after the date thereof, subject to the provision that they may, at the option of Knox county, be paid or redeemed at any time after two years from the date thereof, and before the expiration of said twenty years; and said bonds shall bear interest from date at the rate of six per cent. per annum to be paid annually. Interest coupons shall be attached to each bond, which shall be signed by the County Court Clerk. Said clerk shall keep a list of all said bonds, showing the number, date, amount, time due, to whom delivered, and when delivered, which shall be carefully preserved in his office. Said bonds shall be issued in denominations of $1,000 each.

But the bonds mentioned herein shall not issue until after an election shall have been held in Knox county to take the sense of the legal voters of Knox county upon the question, whether or not said bonds shall be issued for the purpose of building said new Court-house, and an election is hereby ordered to be held on the day of the next general election, Tuesday, November 7, 1905, for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of Knox county upon the question whether or not they are in favor of the issuance of COUNTY BONDS in the sum of THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS for the purpose of building a new Court-house for Knox county, and for that purpose it is hereby directed that a poll be opened at said election on said day at the several voting precincts in Knox county. It shall be the duty of the officers of said election in each precinct to hold said election the same hours they are required to hold elections for the county officers, and said election shall be held and conducted in all respects under the general election laws of this Commonwealth.

The ticket as nominated is a strong one, and all are representative citizens and will make good officials. We are glad that we can present to the voters of our town such a ticket, and we assure every one that this ticket will be elected.

The Official Organ of the Republican Party in Knox County.

We republish from the Hyden Thousandsticks the following editorial which is along the line we have been endeavoring to lead the voters of Southeastern Kentucky for some time past. There has been too little said upon this subject, and we trust that the State papers will give more space to this subject between now and November 7th, in order to show the folly of returning to the old vivace system of voting. The "hounds" sticks say:

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Every voter should consider carefully what he is going to vote for at the coming November election.

There is a Constitutional Amendment to be voted on by the people, and you should consider it well before casting your vote. The amendment is whether our State shall use the present system of voting the Australian ballot system, or go back to the old vivace system, or one very much like it.

Now, it does not matter so much what system is used in the mountain section of Southeastern Kentucky where the country is thinly settled, and every man is his own household, and is not looking to a money king or corporation for his support he can vote his sentiments publicly and there is no one to hinder or hurt his financial affairs.

With the present system of voting, every man in Kentucky can vote his sentiments without conflicting with his financial affairs, and no one knows how you vote or never will know unless you are narrow-minded enough to tell. But if you vote in the old vivace system of voting, the big corporations will influence and control the vote of the county. This scheme was gotten up in the Legislature by the big corporations in order that they might get control of the vote of the State.

Poor voter! whatever you do, vote this down, for it will be hurtful to the poor class of people. On the day we hold our election, if this measure is carried, the corporations will have men to stand at the polls and take the name of all their employees who vote against certain measures which they are interested in, and if their employees happen to vote contrary to their wishes, they will certainly lose their jobs; therefore you see that a poor man cannot vote as he wishes under the proposed new system of voting without losing his job, and thus, have his only way of supporting his family taken away from him, and as he cannot make a living any other way, he is compelled to vote as his employer says.

The poor man at the coming November election should use every effort to defeat this Constitutional Amendment.

The citizens of Barbourville have made good selections in their municipal officers, to be voted for in November. The nominee for Mayor, R. W. Cole, is a man of wide business experience and is now serving out the unexpired term of his brother, H. C. Cole, deceased. He is a careful, economical business man, and will look to the interest of the people of the entire town.

The nominee for Police Judge has had experience, both as Magistrate and as Police Judge in this county, and the people know him by his past record, and the fact that he received the unanimous vote of the convention speaks more than we could say were we to devote unlimited space to compliment his past record.

The Councilmen are all business men of experience and all will study to serve the people in the very best manner that is possible.

We can recommend the entire ticket to the voters of Barbourville and assure them that when these men have served out their term of office the people will realize that the convention of last Saturday acted wisely in making selection of nominees.

THE Republican convention last Saturday afternoon was a real love feast in spite of the efforts of the Democrats to stir up trouble.

We grind all our pepper, cloves, cinnamon, ginger and spice, on our mill here at the store. So if you want pure ground spices, we have them. Don't forget that we have the largest line of flour in this section, and that prices and quality are the best that can be had.

We have just received another shipment of flower pots. The price will remain the same as first lot.

Don't forget us when you want stoneware. We have a large line and will make price at 10c, per gallon while it last.

ROBERT W. COLE.

PERSONALS.

L. W. Farmer has returned from the Wayne county oil fields

Mrs. M. S. Costello was in Louisville the greater part of this week.

W. M. Dishman and wife returned the first of the week from their dental tour to Chattanooga and other points in the South.

Lewis D. Sampson came in last Friday evening from Chicago to spend a few days with his parents and other relatives here. He is looking well and enjoying good health.

Dr. G. H. Albright, who is now physician for the Cumberland Coal Company, is a busy man these days. He comes to town occasionally and reports considerable activity in that neck of the woods.

Severely Hurt.

Mr. Andrew Mitchell was severely hurt at the coal tipple near the L. & N. depot in this city last Monday morning.

He was on the spring seat of his wagon and sprung the tipple trap to load his wagon, when in some manner he fell across the wagon and broke one of his ribs and otherwise injured himself about the head and body. A physician was called and his wounds were dressed and he is now improving.

Well Represented.

Knox county was well represented at the State Development Convention at Louisville this week. Those from this place in attendance were, Judge James D. Black, Chas. Davis, Alex Vaughn, John G. Matthews, John Tugge, J. D. Tugge, S. T. Davidson and D. W. Clark.

Several from the county, were also in attendance. Judge James D. Black spoke Tuesday on "Kentucky to the Front," and Charles Davis responded for Knox county at the roll call of counties Thursday.

HOME AGAIN.

"Home again, mother, your boy will remain
For a time, at least in the old home again,
How good to see you in your cornered nook
With knitting or sewing, or paper or book;
The same sweet mother my boyhood knew,
The faithful, the patient, the tender, the true.
"You have little changed; ah, well, maybe
A few gray hairs in the brown I see;
A mark or two under smiling eyes,
So lovingly bent in your glad surprise;
'Tis I who have changed; ah, mother mine,
From a teasing lad to manhood's prime.
"No longer I climb on your knee at night
For a story told in the soft firelight,
No broken slate, or book all torn,
Do I bring to you with its edges worn;
But I'll come to you with my graver cares.
You'll help me bear them with tender prayers
I'll come again as of old, and you
Will help the man to be brave and true;
For the man's boy, only older grown,
And the world has many a stepping stone,
Ah, mother mine, there is always rest
When I find you in the old home nest."

KIND words are like jewels in the heart, never to be forgotten, but perhaps to cheer by their memory a long sad life. While the words of cruelty are like darts in the bosom, wounding scars that will be borne to the grave by their victims.

NEVER be too tired or too busy to welcome an absent one's return with a pleasant greeting. If at any time reproof be necessary, give it gently and firmly but never on the eve of parting nor on the absent one's return. Let pleasant memories hallow the parting hour and homecoming.

IN the very beginning it was decided by the highest authority that it was not good for man to be alone, and we don't wonder at it when we look about us and see how much some men expect of their wives. We read somewhere recently that "of all creatures in the world a man is the most helpless alone. A chicken two hours out of the shell can take better care of itself than a man can." Of course a woman wrote that, and the next conclusion is that that woman has wed her husband's neck and ears ever since this has had him and has made him just the helpless creature that he is.

THE question is often asked, is marriage a failure? We say no, if you don't expect too much of it; but don't run the risk of trying to reform a man after marriage. In all probability you will be disappointed if you do. If your husband used tobacco when you married him, the Bible forbids curtain lectures afterward, for it says, "he that is filthy, let him be filthy still." There is a bright side to everything, if you will only look till you find it. If your husband smokes, be thankful he don't chew; if he smokes and chews both, be thankful he doesn't drink; if he does all three, be thankful he won't live long.

THERE are very few children indeed that ever get over their early training. In my native home there stands, in front of the school building, a large oak tree. When this tree was quite small a boy limbed to the top of it and swinging off by his weight, pull it over to the ground. It still shows the effect of that bend.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle. Evening Reveries.

ing. How many people go through life with their characters all bent and warped for the want of proper early training. Being gentle and tender in her nature, woman comes in close contact with children, yielding an influence that no one else possibly could. Had it not been for the wise consecrated Christian mother, this country might never have had a character so noble as that of George Washington. Of how many mothers might it be said as a great man once said of his mother: "All that I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my mother."

OUR CHILDREN.

Home should be made one of the most interesting and loved spots on earth, not merely four square walls of wood and brick; it should be the fountain of civilization, the very world I should touch ever fiber of the human heart with its angelic fingers, a place where is centralized on the higher and better things of life, bringing forth in the highways and byways an influence that will be felt by all with whom it comes in contact. It should be a place where the heart is, a place where our feet may leave but not our hearts, a place where angels unfold their wings the place we love best, because it is the place where mother is.

Men can build the house and roof in, a resistance against storms and elements, but the man with all his genius and artisan science cannot make the home; that ever has and ever will be the task of woman. It is she alone that can bring to it warmth and beauty, here she reigns supreme.

Let our homes be places of love, joy and brightest sunshine, places of enduring love that outlasts the wedded day, and which produces a life of one long unbroken honeymoon, the molding place of character, a place where the child breathes an atmosphere perfumed by the choicest flowers of heaven, where it finds the greatest earthly security in mother's loving fostering care.

THE GIRL WE ALL LOVE.

There are girls, and many of them, even readers of this paper, of whom it can truly be said, we all love them. They have virtues whose charm of manner attracts us all. They are not self-righteous. They are not aware that we all admire them. On the other hand in their efforts to contribute to the welfare of others they are oblivious of self, thereby rendering themselves more attractive.

Their influence is felt most in the home. A home is what a woman makes it, and a daughter, in nine cases out of ten, the reflection of her mother.

There the girl has the privilege of acting as "ministering angel." By her gentleness she refines the manners of the brothers and is diligent in her kindness to the aged, throwing wreaths of blossoms on the road that leads father and mother down the steep of years. No child of want ever comes to her and is turned away empty; no one in sorrow comes to her but is comforted; no one asks her the way to be saved but she points him to the cross.

"Tact, sincerity and amiability," says one of our best writers, "are a golden combination in the character of any girl, the first enabling her to avoid those subjects which are likely to prove irritating and keeping her from rubbing others the wrong way, the second one showing her flawless as a crystal in her truths of word and thought, and the third to make her overflow with loving kindness. The essentials are within reach of all."

Notice of Dissolution.

The public is hereby notified that the partnership business heretofore done by Jones & Hale, under the name of the Barboursville Blue Gem Coal Company, is now dissolved, and that S. H. Hale is no longer connected with said business in any way.

TROUBLE.

It is a well known fact that everybody in every kind of business have their troubles, and it is useless to make trouble for yourself and your neighbor by putting off until next week what should be done to-day. Time is money, and wasted time is money lost, and for this reason it costs us about three times as much as it should to collect our bills. We do not desire to be unreasonable, but we dislike to walk the town over six times a week to collect what we ought to collect in one day. It is our duty to see you and present our bill once and if you fail to pay, then it should be your duty to us and make settlement if we grant you further time on your bill.

There must be a remedy for this and a rule established so that hereafter all Light bills not paid by the 10th of each month will be cut out, unless some satisfactory agreement has been made by that time.

BARBOURVILLE ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY.

DO YOU SEE?

How can you spend these long evenings without having a good light by which you can keep posted as to the happenings throughout the country. You cannot enjoy your reading by a kerosene lamp or tall candle, but if you have one of those 16 candle power Shelly electric globes you can see to read in any part of the room and your eyes will not tire and pain you. They are a great luxury and no home in our town should be without the electric light service. The new management has overhauled the plant and it now gives entire satisfaction to all who are using the service. Try it, and you would not again be without it.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MHS. BY.

Frank Warren made a business trip to Middlesboro Friday and Saturday.

E. L. Patterson, of this place, visited Red Bird the first of the week, taking orders for pictures and engraving scripture. Go it, Ligie, you're all right.

Newt Gambrel has quit going to "Uncle Ned's." Wonder what's the matter?

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor have moved back to their home place after a short residence in Wayne county.

The students and teacher of Trace Branch School spent Monday scouring the house, and the students and teacher of Taylor's creek school did the same thing Monday week. Both instances were the result of holding a meeting in the houses. The church-going people of this place don't seem to realize the fact that cleanliness is next to Godliness.

After long debating and much deliberation, the Taylor's Creek church in its business session reinstated Rev. Stephen Jackson to full membership in the church. He has for some time been excluded from the church, and now by reinstating him the church has made a valuable (?) accession.

Boom the telephone to our place, or send it to this place. Any way to get it here.

PORTER.

Battley's Switch.

Mr. E. S. Trosper spent most of last week at Frankfort, and while there visited the penitentiary, and would have preached a few sermons to the convicts but Gov. Beckham objected to him preaching. That is always the way, when a man wants to do good there is some one to hinder him. I tell you Uncle Z. ke looked awful blue when he came back about the way the governor had treated him. Neither did Mr. Bailey like the way his clerk was mistreated, but it is no difference for Mr. Bailey, as he should have kept his clerk at home. I feel sorry for them.

J. R. Bailey had a fine work horse killed a few days ago.

Why not read the Advocate, it is the best paper I ever read.

Well, I guess you have heard we had a phone on Stinking creek. Now we can talk business to town without going so far. It saves us lots of odd change.

John Jackson has returned from Georgia, where he has been working on a new railroad. He says it was so hot there that all the hide slipped off him. We guess he thought he was in a bad shape when he lost his hide.

Mr. Bargo is building a new residence down on his lower farm, and will move to it very shortly.

Well, our phone is a nice thing, but a railroad up Stinking creek would be much nicker.

G. T. Mills and Dan Jackson have bought half of T. G. Hammons' steam mill and have started up the logging and lumber business.

We have been having some very interesting meetings at our church this week. Bro. Hammens baptized four Sunday, and our meeting is still going on. We have had four joiners since and several others deserving the prayers of the Christian people. Let's all pray for them that they may not turn back into the world.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MILLS, KY.

Mr. W. S. Woodson was here last week selling school furniture. Both schools at this place bought nice bills, which shows the enthusiasm that the present school work has aroused.

Mrs. Rouhonia Curry, formerly Mrs. Mills, of this place, has just arrived from Madison county on her trial tour. The shock was so great to her old sister, Willis Warren, that it caused a nervous collapse, from which it will be difficult for him to recover.

Watt Warren, who is quite a high-dyer among the girls, called on Miss Dora Brock Sunday. He talks like he means business.

The secession produced by the Curry-Mills affair, was about to culminate in a match between Will Patterson and Mollie Wages, but Amanda, the mother of the bride-to-be, appeared on the scene with her Col's 45" and affairs took on a different aspect.

Born—To the wife of Frank Patterson, a bouncing boy. Mother and aabe are doing nicely, and Frank is so pleased he can't see for looking.

The school elections Saturday resulted in the selection of worthy men to fill the vacancies. It is surprising to see how the schools at this place are pushing to the front; and the teachers with their untiring efforts deserve not a little of the credit.

The one thing we need now is a telephone. We are all great talkers, but nobody knows it. Give us a telephone and we will tell you all about this thing.

PATTERSON.

Hopper.

Seymore Hopper and family are visiting his brother, A. B. Hopper.

Dan and Joe Stewart have moved to Corbin.

Last Saturday was school election, and there was a great deal of quarreling at Bull creek, but no blood shed. Isn't it very strange that in some communities cannot hold an election without taking their guns. It is reported that the clerk had to flee with the ballot box.

N. M. Reynolds has opened up his straw hauling, and it is a sight to see how fast the teamsters are moving them.

Corn is commanding a good price here now. It is selling readily for 45 cents per bushel.

The people are all unanimously in favor of the new railroad. Our hills are heavily laden with fine timber and full of good coal awaiting the great wheels of transportation to roll it on to market.

J. W. M.

Hammond.

Winter is coming and chestnut time will soon be over.

John Hubbard, of this place, is now recovering, after a spell of intermit-ten fever.

Rev. Marshal Prugh says the meeting that Dry Gourd, of Sealf, tells about, that he caught the fish, but T. G. Hammons gets the honor of it.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bright visited relatives at Mills Sunday.

Henry Hinkle and the Bright brothers have purchased a fine lot of hay this year, and need the service of four or five bales. Now let's have the telephone line extended to Mills. Boys, talk up, and let's have the railroad run up Stinking creek.

Grant Hammons is having considerable amount of work done, which will add much to the appearance of his residence.

T. G. Hammons is talking of running for magistrate, but, boys, as for me, I say hurrah! for John W. Messer.

Rev. Feelen Hammons and Miss Axis Mills visited friends and relatives at this place Sunday.

Our phone line is nice, but if it is extended to Mills it would be nicer. Subscribe for the Advocate and get the news.

W. H. Grace and J. F. Taylor were in Barboursville on business last Saturday.

James and Harve Martin, of Pineville, were visiting their mother, Mrs. Katherine Kinder, last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ora Jackson was the guest of Mary Taylor last week.

W. M. Dyer has just completed a fine water well for Mrs. Nannie Taylor this week.

Miss Lizzie Dizney visited relatives at Grays last Friday.

John Livville was visiting at Corbin last week.

John DeZier, who has been working at Corbin, was called home last Saturday on account of his sick baby, but we are glad to say the child is some better at this writing.

Hurrah! for Rev. T. G. Hammons for Justice of the Peace. We hope the people will let justice prevail and elect a man who will look after our interests and defend the rights of our distract.

Our telephone is up, and if you want to save long trips, call on T. G. Hammons and you can talk anywhere on the line for 25 cents. This line ought to go to Mills and give our good people on Big creek a telephone. What about it?
